As the Class of 2010 entered Millis High School, so did Maryann Ziemba. Little did we know that she would influence our entire high school career. As our class adviser, she put us first and helped us in any way she could. For some, she became a "big sister" figure, helping the class with every type of problem. For others, she became a mentor, inspiring her students each and every day. Always with a smile and some sort of comment about Jacksonian Democracy, Ms. Ziemba helped our class have the best high school experience ever. We were her first class, and we hold a special place in her heart; and evidently, she will remain in our hearts as well. Thank you Ms. Ziemba for making our years at Millis High School memorable.

Administration

The Class of 2010 is exceptionally talented and motivated. You have shown through your hard work, perseverance- your grit- and the application of your talents that you are a collection of individuals who has had and will continue to have a very positive impact on the community, both global and local. Your years in the Millis Public Schools will long be remembered by your teachers, parents and classmates as a time when Millis High School gained recognition as one of the top 3% high schools in the nation and one of the best high schools in Massachusetts due to the hard work you put into everything you do, from athletics to robotics, from the sciences to the arts, from volunteer work to political activism. Your teachers have supported and challenged you every step of the way and your families, friends, and the entire community have played a part in your success. You have a strong foundation from which to leap into your futures.

As Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, the late 18th, early 19th century German writer wrote and then proved through his various accomplishments, "What you can do, or dream you can, begin it. Boldness has genius, power, and magic in it." Be bold, strive for what is right, find your purpose, and enjoy the journey!

to the Class of 2010, You are truly an incredible group of students. It has been a treasure working with you over the past three years that I've been principal. I have great admiration for your talents, your enthusiasm, and your loyalty to your school and friends. You have had a unique experience going to school at Millis.

Mr. Robert Mullaney
Principal

You will find this out as you meet students from other high schools. Most of you grew up together attending the same elementary, middle, and high schools. You know all the people in your class, and you know them well. Your parents know your friends well, and you know your friends' parents well. Small School-Big Family is an appropriate motto. I am always impressed when I go to games or shows and see the interaction between students, parents, and staff. I think of state tournament games at places like Hull, or Worcester, or at the Boston Garden, and I remember the fantastic support of the community—it was like the whole town came out to watch you play. I think of Robotics competitions at Boston University and seeing students, parents, and teachers wearing the colors of team ALARM. I think of the many plays, concerts, and competitions of the last few years and the growing crowds at each. I also think of your daily performance in the classroom. I always tried to enter your classrooms quietly because I didn't want to disturb the momentum you and your teachers had built. During both long and short visits, I came away impressed with the mutual respect, the excitement for learning, and the friendly rapport shared by you and your teachers. You have been fortunate to have great teachers during your high school career. Again, when you meet students from other schools, you will learn how lucky you have been. You will remember them forever.

The class of 2010 has certainly left its mark on Millis High School. You are remarkable young men and women poised to leave your mark in your new destinations. I wish you health and happiness. Please remember that you belong to a distinctive group—Millis High School Alumni. Congratulations.

Best wishes in all your future endeavors.

We started off the year with almost not having a team. To our relief, Hopedale joined our team and saved the program. With a little talent, hard work, and luck, we pulled out a 5-6 record. The same record as last year. I do not know how we pulled it off. Overall, it was a great year and one we will always remember. Next year looks promising with talented athletes returning from Millis and Hopedale. Captains Dave McGaw and Andrew Miccile should lead the Mohawks to a winning season.

Last year's season was tough to compete with, and losing six incredibly talented seniors did not make it any easier. Our seniors and captains, Stephanie Gove, Shannon Heffernan, and Hillary McBride, let the team to a 9-10 season. Tournament came down to our last regular season game verse Frontier, which we unfortunately lost. Even though our season ended, we worked hard, and made lots of memories. For such a new team, we did well and we competed with some of the best teams in the state. The seniors wish the volleyball program the best of luck next year, and to shoot for another state championship!

This JV soccer season was a roller coaster ride. We lost most of the games in the first half of the season, but by mid-season, we picked it up and really came together as a team. We were led by our two seniors, Mike Davis and Andres Barrera; they were two fun captains, who pushed us to work harder. Mike Davis played defense and saved countless goals, while Andres Barrera played forward and scored nine goals this season. Without them, we may not have won a game. Coach Kendrick's practices helped us bond as a team. We may not have won a lot, but as Andres says, "It's all about embarrassing the other team." Thank you to our seniors and Coach Kendrick for a fantastic season!

The girls' soccer team this year was captained by Olivia Zitoli, Molly Breen, and Amanda White. With a record of 14-2-6 the girls moved on to the first round of the State Tournament where they ultimately would defeat their three time opponent Norwell. From there, the girls moved on to see Gateway at the Division III Championship match. The team took a three to zero win and were crowned the Division Three State Champions. As well as numerous first team and second team all-stars and Olivia being named TVL and Division III MVP, the girls were talented on and off the field. Olivia, Molly, Amanda, Allyssa, Danielle, Marissa, Khushbu, Jen, Sam, and Candace will be greatly missed by the entire team next season.

A few hundred lost golf balls and a few thousand broken tees are a small price to pay for the good times we had out on the course this year. The Millis Golf team beat Bellingham during it's very cold season. We had so much fun that despite the freezing cold and rain many of us were still out playing. We sent Ben Martin to states and he shot a 82 on one of the hardest courses in New England. Most of us will be returning next year in hopes of making it to the state tournament. We graduate one senior and he will be missed. Pat O'Shaughnessy has bee a big component of the team for a few years. With out rising younger players, we hope to continue growing and adding victories to our records chart. Hopefully in the future we'll beat Bellingham instead of tying at the TVLs. We'd also like to add a special thanks to our coach Andy Ingham for all the laughs and good times.

The girls' basketball team was captained by Molly Breen and Olivia Zitoli. Coming off a State title from the previous season, the girls had high hopes of going deep into the tournament. Although the team didn't advance to win the title, they moved to the Division four semi-finals. This season, Molly Breen, Shannon Heffernan, and Olivia Zitoli were named TVL all-stars, and Molly Breen was named on the Boston Globe All Scholastic and Metrowest Super Team. In addition, Molly became the all time leading scorer in Millis with 1,357 career points. In the third game of the of the season, Molly scored her 1,000 career point. She was also given the honor of being names the Student-Athlete of the Year for District C by the Boston Globe and was the female winner of the Will McDonough Award as the Boston Globe Athlete of the Year for the entire state. Molly, Olivia, Shannon, Khushbu, and Marissa will be missed next basketball season.

Words cannot express the amazing time we had this year during our basketball season under the leadership of captains Nick Hyman and Andrew Bonzey. With seven seniors, the amount of talent on the team was phenomenal. The Shepherd twins gave it everything they had. And poor Scott Cooney tried his very best to dunk. The famous quote "Tiiimmmmmber ..." will go down in Millis Basketball history. One of the highlights of the season was making it to tournament. We fought hard. Nick Hyman turned in a career-high 35-point performance in the tournament game against Southeastern. And last but not least, do not forget when Coach Tingley told us we have diamonds!!

Corey becomes the first Millis Athlete to become an ALL AMERICAN, and the first Millis Track Athlete to take first place at All States - becoming an All State Champion in his event. Corey was also the Tri Valley League Champion in his event, placing First at the Division 4 State Meet setting a new school record in the high jump of 6' 7", and placed 4th at New England Regionals. Zach Tashjian took 10th place at the State Meet in the 1000 meter with a time of 2:46.6, which is also a new school record.

We may not have had the most successful season in terms of wins and losses, but that's not what matters. I don't think it's possible to find a team that went 1-19 and had as much fun as we did! We made our way over losses and our toughest loss against Marian. Finally getting our one win against Westwood. With eight seniors graduating, the returning team will face new struggles. All the seniors held an important part and will each be missed in their own way. And the seniors will miss the underclassmen. Good luck next year girls!

For the first time since the 1980's, Millis Baseball made it into the playoffs. In the first round of the Div. 4 south playoffs, 15th seed Millis downed 2nd seed Maimonides 1-0. Kyle Latosek pitched a no hitter, to move us to the quarter final round against 7th seed Harwich. Unfortunately, we fell to Harwich, 11 to 4. Finishing the year 10-12, this will be a year to remember. From the team trip to Cooperstown to beating Bellingham, the memories will last a lifetime! We will greatly miss all the seniors!

This year, boys volleyball was filled with fun! We tried our very best. We will always remember coach's "free-bee's" because we struggled that badly. The Spring Sports Awards went to Chris Posklensky for Most Valuable Player, Peter Kennedy for the Coach's Award, and Sean Hurley for Most Improved Player. We will miss our only senior Ankit Patel, who made this season so memorable with his hard work and dedication!

Girls Varsity Tennis has reached new heights this season! Doubling our record from previous seasons, we proved that not only are we one of the most improved teams in the league, but we are one of the most diverse. Leading our team to a truly memorable season were our seniors Allyssa Wong and Candace Devens. They made the season one for the books! Looking back, our teammates will miss the fun memories.

GRADUATION SPEECHES

Valedictorian: Jacqueline Selter

Good evening. Thank all of you for coming tonight. Before I begin, I would like to take a moment to recognize the people that have played such a major role in our success. On behalf of myself and the entire class of 2010, I would like to thank the teachers, the staff, the coaches, parents, other family members and friends who have made this an amazing twelve years.

For as long as I can remember the Wizard of Oz has been my favorite movie. Do you recall the Scarecrow who did not have a brain, the Tin Man created without a heart, and the Lion who was afraid of his own shadow? All three were in search of the qualities they were lacking. In the end they became aware that they had possessed what they were in search of all along. Just like the characters in the classic The Wizard of Oz, my fellow classmates and I have just completed a similar journey. Some of us started off like the Scarecrow feeling as if we did not have the brains to complete school. Tests and essays were not some of our strong points. For those of you who felt this way, I hope you know now that you were wrong. If you are sitting here tonight it is because you passed! You survived Mr. Fallon's history tests, you made it through Mr. Verdy's math, and you improved as a writer. That knowledge that you thought you lacked is there now and will only continue to grow in the future. Some of us may have thought, like the Tin Man, that we were in need of heart, but again I would like to point out that you were wrong. The seniors won spirit week this year with more passion and enthusiasm than any class ever. Without a doubt we have spirit and a genuine compassion for all the members of our grade. The class of 2010 most definitely has heart. And lastly, some of us started off with very little courage. We were shy, afraid of what others may think, or could never get up in front of the class to give a speech. If you are sitting here now you have completed the Senior Project, which means you were able to give a presentation in front of a panel of judges. I hope you realize that you have that confidence now whether you believe you do or not. Our journey ends here tonight, in our small gymnasium but it is a celebration just as fantastic as the one in Oz.

Classmates, I hope that this has eliminated any of the doubts you've had about yourselves. I have confidence that this class of 2010 is going to have an incredible impact on the world. With our salutatorian Bridget Gioia running the corporate world, the economy will be in the best shape it has ever been. With Khushbu Desai leading our medical profession, there will never be another shortage of vaccines. With Amanda Vecchi making sure the world is eating healthy; dieting will be a thing of the past. With Cole Tangney as head of education, no child will be left behind. With Billy Cerullo as president and Sarah Sack as his chief advisor, how could anything go wrong? And with Corey Fairfield representing the United States in the Summer Olympics, the high jump gold medal will be guaranteed. I only mentioned a few talented people in our grade but there are so many more. The world won't know what hit it.

Whenever monumental moments happen in our lives we usually look back and wish that we had embraced the moment more when it was happening. So classmates take a second here to let it sink in, we are at OUR graduation, not sitting in the bleachers watching others receive their diplomas, but we the class of 2010 are the ones in the caps and gowns tonight. We are sitting here tonight because we survived our high school experiences. And now it is time to say goodbye to many friends who we have known since almost as long as we can remember. We leave behind amazing memories and bring with us the incredible knowledge we have obtained. The halls that were once filled with our laughter and footsteps will no longer hear us. The shoving and yelling we did in the one hallway that makes up Millis High School are all past. Some of us are going to college next year, while others will begin working. There may be some that we will never see again. But whatever happens in the future, we will always remember the years of our lives spent here at Millis. We may never pass this way again, but we will never forget that we once did.

Salutatorian: Bridget Gioia

Good evening Ms. Gustafson, Mr. Mullaney, School Committee members, faculty, family and friends. I'd like to take the time to congratulate Jacqueline Selter, or as I like to call her, Jack, for being named our Valedictorian. Jacqueline and I have spent many long nights studying together since freshman year. I'm so thankful we had the opportunity to grow together as students and as friends. We have had some of the best times during our little study sessions, and I'm definitely going to miss her.

When I was a sophomore, I moved out of Millis and into the neighboring town of Norfolk. My mother decided it would be a good idea for me to attend King Philip High School in Wrentham half-way through the year. KP combines three different towns, which means it graduates over 300 students each year. Compared to the 87 in our class, it was a huge change that I wasn't ready for. On my first day, the teachers basically handed me my books and told me I needed to catch up right away. They said, "you're very far behind; maybe you should think about dropping down to the college prep level course." I was so overwhelmed, but there was really nothing I could do. Immediately, I knew that the rest of my high school career would be different than it was at Millis. I cried for days until my mother gave in, and I returned to my home town.

The thing that sets Millis apart from most schools is the fact that I had pretty much memorized when each of my teachers had a study and a prep period. I took full advantage of going in for extra help and advice throughout my four years. I have had some wonderful conversations with the faculty here at MHS, and I knew that I would not have that elsewhere. One of these people that has helped me survive high school is our Athletic Director and Director of Student Affairs, Coach Grant. Coach has always been there for me, and I know I can talk to him about anything. I'm not too sure that the administrators at other schools would take the time to talk to more than half of the students about their life problems.

I never thought I'd say it, but the day I came back to Millis was one of the happiest days of my life. Everyone sitting behind me will agree that most of our teachers are willing to put in extra time to ensure that we get the help we need. Even though sometimes it feels like everyone knows everything about you, I can speak for all the students when I say we are so lucky to be in a school like Millis. From first hand experience, I can say attending a small school has many more perks than a large school, despite what some may think.

Millis has helped me grow into a dedicated student, and I'm so excited to use what I've learned these past four years in my future education. I'd like to wish everyone in the class of 2010 the best of luck in your future endeavors. Thank you.

Graduation Message: Lylah Fitzgerald

Four years ago, I walked through the doors of an unfamiliar school in an unfamiliar town, surrounded by unfamiliar people. I felt like everyone knew that I was there...and they did. I was "the new kid." I was bombarded with questions such as "What's your name?" and "Where are you from?"

At every other High School in the world, the arrival of a new student is trivial...probably unnoticed by most. Millis, however, is different. Millis is a small school. Yet, it is not only a small school. It is a big family.

On that day, I didn't realize it, but I was being "adopted" into this small town culture, this small town mentality, this place that is Millis. Every member of our class can look around this day confident that he or she knows every single face graduating. We can look at the audience and see every teacher and faculty member. Each one of us can be that he or she has been a limb, that he or she has been an essential part of this living, breathing student body.

I hope that as you look up here, at all of us in caps and gowns, dressed similarly, our differences are not overlooked. Like a body, we have different parts. Certainly, we have "the brain," those of us like Jack and Bridget, who have studied, studied...and studied, those people to whom B is considered Bad and an A only average.

We have legs, strong and powerful sports players and captains like Nick Hyman and Molly Breen, who have never let up. As Freshman, they looked up to the Seniors. Now, the tables have turned. They are the ones being looked up to. We have organs, those people like Shane and Sarah, who don't stick out from an outsider's view, but are certainly necessary members of our class. What would we do without their unique perspective on life? What would we do without Shane's infamous debates and Sarah's large vocabulary?

I know that I didn't mention everyone in our class, but each and every person is a vital part. I've been to other schools. I've left and come back to Millis High. It's an atmosphere of friendship, an atmosphere of love. It's a place where we have grown and matured. It's a place unlike any other school. Millis High School really is a home. The Senior Class truly is a family.

As we walk out the doors of this familiar school and this familiar town, we must also say goodbye to many familiar faces. These are not only the faces of our best friends, not only the faces of our class. These are the faces of all those around us. These are the faculty and teachers at Millis High School, the coaches and teammates who have pushed us and helped us to grow, the members of our clubs and sports teams, the entire student body.

As we walk out the doors to leave these people, I know that we will carry with us their spirits. We will carry with us a piece of this small town, a piece of the place that has formed us, shaped us, and made us who we are. Not one of us will ever forget that we were a member of Millis High School. Not one of us will ever forget that we are and always will be not simply a member of the graduating class of 2010, but a member of this lifelong family. Thank you.

Graduation Welcome: Jennifer Gasbarro

Good evening superintendent, faculty, staff, family, friends, neighbors, and of course the Millis High School graduating class of 2010. My name is Jennifer Gasbarro and I have had the privilege of serving as Class President of the class of 2010 for the past four years. It is my honor to be here tonight to welcome all of you to the Millis High School 2010 graduation.

Beginning freshmen year I would attend this annual ceremony in that corner over there with the high school chorus and I envisioned what it would be like when I graduated. I always found it funny that the commencement speakers would turn to the group of students wearing identical caps and gowns and tell them to never lose their individuality. But as I stand up here tonight, finally graduating myself, I realize that what those speakers have said over the years is true.

Everyone sitting up here tonight is their own strong, intelligent, talented, mature, and caring person. And each and every one of them has been a component, influential to our success. And although our academic success does deserve distinct recognition, what I am personally the most proud of is the character of all of the Millis High School seniors.

They all ponder over self-questioning, question authority within their logic and right, and are the most caring and considerate group of teenagers I have ever met. We all hold ourselves to a high moral standing and we expect our peers to hold themselves to it too.

These Millis students always do the right thing. Even when there was some minor wrong doing, which is inevitable in our teenage years, these students always took responsibility for their actions and learned from their mistakes.

And if opportunity never came knocking, these kids would build a door. They would do whatever it takes to succeed and to be the best people they can be. And I believe that kind of attitude that was taught here at Millis High School deserves just as much praise as our academic success.

The best part about attending Millis High School is that I get to stand up here and receive my diploma next to not only my peers, but also my best friends. I could tell you not only the first and last names of every single boy and girl up here, but I could also tell you their middle name, the names of their siblings, their address, and their favorite color. And although I really do not know anything different, I do realize that this is a very unique situation.

The biggest change for all of us going off and furthering our education is not going to be leaving our rooms and our parents behind, but joining a campus that will be filled with thousands of students and new faces; we aren't going to know everyone's middle names, sibling's names, addresses, favorite colors, last names, and probably even first names.

But I don't think living in Millis has hindered our development at all; instead, I believe that growing up in a community that gives us so many opportunities and chances for friendship will give us confidence to still be the loudest, funniest, outgoing, and productive young men and women we have been in high school.

I foresee nothing but the best for these students. We have people going to great schools such as Villanova University, Trinity College, and George Washington University; we have people going into great fields such as sports medicine, meteorology, creative writing, and teaching; and we have some people who are brave enough to enter the armed forces and the work force.

And I just hope you go out and do the best that you can do at whatever it is you want to do. But I also ask you not to forget where you came from. Please stay in touch, go to breakfast at Bob's over summer vacation, stay in our Facebook group and stay in touch. No matter how many miles you move away to, or how many inches you grow over the summer, you all are going to be in my heart forever, and remain my most trusted and closest friends.

I would like you to ponder this quote by the American writer, Richard Bach.

"Don't be dismayed at goodbyes.

A farewell is necessary before you can meet again.

And meeting again, after moments or lifetime,

is certain for those who are friends."

So I will say goodbye for now, and wish you the best of luck and of course, congratulations on your graduation.

CONGRATULATIONS STEPH
Love, mom and Dad

Congratulations
Allyssa!!

We are very proud of you!
We wish you much happiness and success in the years to come!

Love, Dad, Mom,
Matt, & Michele

Gotta hold on easy as we let you go
Gonna tell you how much we love you
Though you think you already know
We remember we thought you looked like
An angel wrapped in pink so soft and warm
You had us wrapped around your finger
Since the day you were born

When you were in trouble, that crooked little smile
Could melt my heart of stone
Now look at you I've turned around
And you've almost grown
Sometimes you're asleep I whisper I love you
In the moonlight at your door
As I walk away I hear you say, Daddy love you more

You're beautiful Bridget from the outside in Chase your dreams but always know
The road that'll lead you home again
Go on take on this whole world
But to us you know you'll always be
Our little girl!
(from "My Little Girl" by Tim McGraw)

You're beautiful Bridget from the outside in Chase your dreams but always know
The road that'll lead you home again
Go on take on this whole world
But to us you know you'll always be
Our little girl!

Some day some boy will come
And ask me for your hand
But I won't say yes to him unless I know
He's the half that makes you whole
He has a poet's soul and the heart of a man's man
I know he'll say that he's in love
But between you and me, he won't be good enough

To Our Little Girl Bridget,
Whether you stay on the east coast
Or venture to the west
Always remember that
We think you're the BEST!
WE LOVE YOU!
Love - Mommy, Daddy, Phil & Nanny

In Memory of Olivia Storer

From the Class of 2010

i carry your heart with me (i carry it in my heart) i am never without it (anywhere i go you go, my dear; and whatever is done by only me is your doing, my darling)

i fear

no fate (for you are my fate, my sweet) i want no world (for beautiful you are my world, my true) and it's you are whatever a moon has always meant and whatever a sun will always sing is you here is the deepest secret nobody knows (here is the root of the root and the bud of the bud and the sky of the sky of a tree called lief; which grows

higher than the soul can hope or mind can hide)
and this is the wonder that's keeping the stars apart

i carry your heart (i carry it in my heart)
